

THE Secret Of The Most Caring, Connected, and Contribution-Oriented Man In The World

Take a look at this picture.

Now, when you see the picture above, you may be like:

"Joe Polish met the richest man in the world. Cool!"

Ya, it is cool. But then there's this.

Just putting on a seminar with Paula Abdul...

...and hugging Paula. (In JOES Office!) Completely just a normal every day thing.

Okay, Whatever. I mean, anyone can meet a few celebrities and rich people, right?

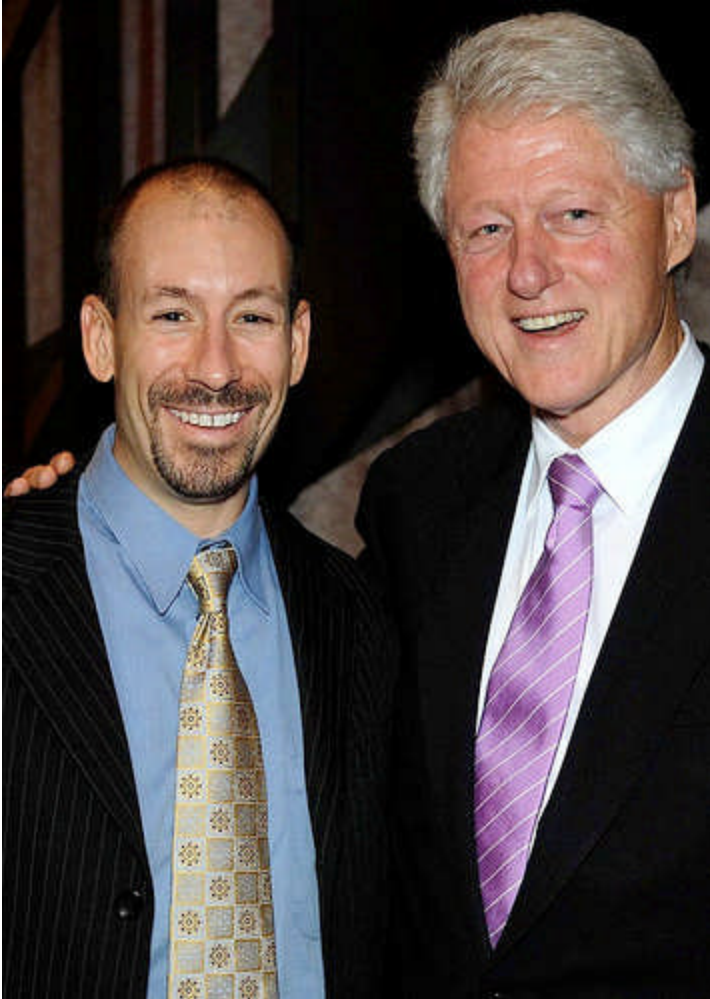

I mean, after all, it's not like he's hanging out with the former President of the United States or anything.

Oh, wait...that's EXACTLY what he's doing.

Joe: "THIS GUY RIGHT HERE!"

Bill: "LOL!"

Bill: "I'm totally putting this pic on my mantle when I need a smile" - Hallmark FTW!

Three powerful, influential, and rich people.

Okay, so what. What's the big deal, Right?

I mean, it's not like he's the most connected person in the world or anything.

Oooooooooooh snap! You jus' dun goofed n' about to get served:

Hangin' With Hugh.

He's got the swagger and pimp of Hefner with added refinement.

Or something like that.

The distinguished Desmond Tutu.

Nobel Peace Prize,
Gandhi Peace Prize
AND
Presidential Medal of Freedom Winner.

Patrick Dempsey aka McDreamy.

(No. Really. That's his nickname. That, and he's a fine looking specimen of our species. Not as good looking as Joe, but whatever.)

Jay Leno.

As Conan O'Brien says: You can do anything you want in life, unless Jay Leno wants to do it too.

That's why there's no pic of Joe and Conan...cause Jay wanted the only late night host pic with Joe.

Al Gore.

It was totally Joes ideas for him to create the Internet.

Tony Robbins.

Throwing Paraplegics Out Of Airplanes Like A Badass Since The Last Episode Of "Breakthrough".

And just for the heck of it, Joe also chills with:

Neve Campbell
Natalie Imbruglia
Carolyn Kepcher and George Ross (from the Apprentice)
Justin Long (the Mac guy from the Mac/PC TV commercials)
David Bach
Arnold Diaz
The Dalai Lama...

...and some of his other friends you probably haven't heard of that are only shaping the world you live in:

Michael Gerber
Brian Tracy
Bill Phillips
Marty Edelston
Brian Kurtz
Steve Pressfield
Joe Sugarman
John Carlton
Gary Halbert
Gary Bencivenga
Dan Sullivan...

..and the list goes on.

I mean, it's comedy.

Because, you know the whole six degrees from separation idea?

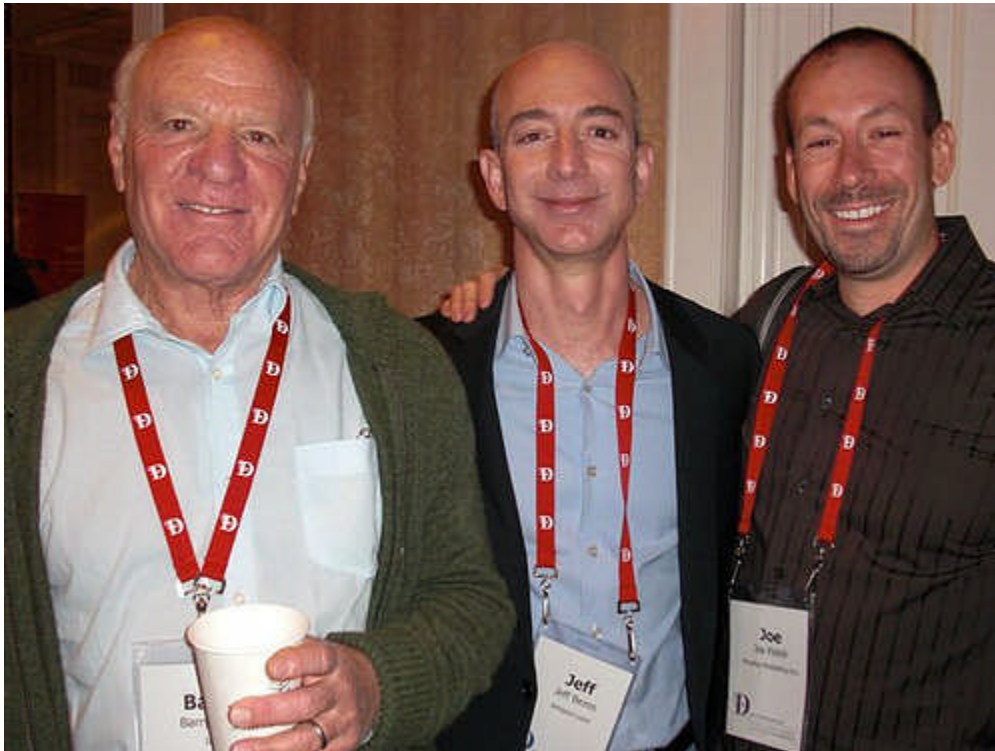

And how you're 1 person away from knowing anyone?

I'm pretty sure Joe renders useless the idea of 'six degrees of separation'.

He actually just has a first degree relationship with everyone on earth.

But I mean, you'll say, "Okay...but dude...you said he knows people that 'shape the world I live in'. I mean, it's not like he's RUNNING THE WORLD or anything."

Okay. Look at these two pictures:

Barry Diller. Jeff Bezos. Joe Polish.

Rupert Murdoch.

Really. Look at them.

Do you understand what those pictures even mean?

Can you even fathom what they imply?

Let me point out something unbelievable (but 100% real):

Jeff Bezos is the Chairman and CEO of Amazon.

Rupert Murdoch is the Chairman and CEO of News Corporation (the second largest media conglomerate in the WORLD second only to Disney)

Barry Diller is the previous head of Paramount Pictures and he created Fox Broadcasting Company and USA Broadcasting Company.

He CREATED them.

And now he's the Chairman and CEO of InterActiveCorp (IAC).

What's AIC?

AIC owns College Humor, Match.com, Vimeo, BustedTees, Ask.com, Dictionary.com and a bunch of other companies that I'm only mentioning because I happen to use some of them CONSISTENTLY. It's funny seeing how one single company can control so much of my reality.

But here's the point...

Collectively, if you put Diller, Bezos and Murdoch together, they essentially control distribution of the vast majority of disseminated and received information on the PLANET.

Like...REALLY.

It's hilarious to think about, but it's not that much of a stretch.

Think about what I'm suggesting to you.

You know what 'information' is, right? That stuff that's constantly being exchanged by humans so as to suggest what our social construct and reality means. Ya, that stuff. They control THAT.

In a way, I'm suggesting to you something about power and influence that literally controls the reality we live in.

And Joe just connects and hangs out with these people. NBD!

After all, his 25k genius network mastermind group is designed to help facilitate this sort of thing with an invite only group of people.

But I've ... said too much already.

Heavy stuff man. Heavy stuff.

So to lighten things up, here's this:

100% Normal In Every Way.

So...What is this all about? Why am I posting all this?

Well, answer this:

In this schmorgusboard of influence, power, riches, connection, and everything I've posted here...what's the common denominator?

What do all these people have in common?

Two words:

JOE. POLISH.

Think of how mind boggling that is.

THEY all have JOE in common.

THEY ALL KNOW JOE.

Joe is one of those guys you may not hear about...but is more connected, caring and contribution oriented than 99% of people on the planet.

And to answer what all this means and why I posted all this, it's pretty obvious.

I posted it because there's a "Lesson" and "Link".

First: The "Lesson".

The "Lesson" can be best described through four pictures:

Chillin' out maxin' relaxin' all cool With Sir Billionaire Branson aka Dr. Rich

Richard Branson?

Life Magazine?

Awards?

What's going on here?

Well, here's the fourth picture:

Just casually donating about a half a Mil to help fight poverty and help kids in Africa.
Contribution R0x0rs!

CONTRIBUTION.

Let me type that word one more time.

CONTRIBUTION.

That might be "the word" that sums up this whole message and THE secret of the most caring, connected, and contribution-oriented man in the world.

Joe and the people in his $25k group 'get' what it means to CONTRIBUTE.

They 'get' what it means to make life better for people around the world.

To paraphrase something Eben says:

Have your greatest success and fulfillment in life come from helping the other person become more successful than you. Do this, and you'll go far in life.

In the past, I typed up notes about men who live lives worthy of study and emulation simply by virtue of how much they represent what it means to live a 'full life'. (An example of such a person is Craig Clemens (Hey Craig!))

And today, this study and emulation spotlights Joe Polish.

And maybe...just maybe...if we learn from Joe, we can:

1. Aspire to make our lives great

AND

2. Contribute back to the world

Just Like Joe.

And Best of all?

He's only just beginning.

And you can begin RIGHT NOW too.

Jason :)

P.S. Here's Joe receiving $25,000 from a smart person named Josh Bezoni:

$25,000 Over-Sized Check
+
Shake Weight
=
Comical Cash Collection

Typically the smartest people on the planet hand Joe checks for $25,000.

That's just what they do.

Because they "get it".

They get what IT means.

P.S. None of the people in these photos are specifically endorsing Joe's 25K Genius Network Mastermind group. I just listed them as examples of the people he has access to on a personal level. And Full Disclosure: I met Joe through his amazing charity work, and now have the privilege work with him to help even more people. UNDERSTAND: Joe didn't ask me to write this letter. All I want to do is communicate how awesome he is and I'm so honored to know him and be on his team.

P.P.S. Oh yea. Almost forgot about the "Link" that goes along with the "Lesson".
